Create with ink, earth and wood

A community

Smoke swirls above me

Like ink dispensed on water

A marbled canvas

Crows caw on rooftops

An angle grinder brushes

A feathery sheen

Clay swathed in fire

Blackened in delivery

A homunculus

Metal teeth chew wood

in ravenous rotation

dribbles sawdust clouds

Eating together

Creates a stillness of mind

Where tools lay silent

The table littered

With little islands of clay

A Granby atoll

Dust, brick, pebble, stone

An old broken tumbled house

Assembled – made new
